More On Sabbath

In yesterday's sermon, we contemplated Sabbath and our need for life-giving REST! Not only did God rest on the seventh day, God made our hearts to rest between beats and our lungs to pause between in breath and out breath. God created an earth that offers us abundance, but only if it is able to rest! And so observing Sabbath for us is not an optional activity. Sabbath is life orienting and life giving. Among the "Thou Shalt Nots" of God's commandments, Sabbath is a "Thou Shall." So many of us are mired in the cult of busyness and bogged down in the quest for more which can only be obtained with more work. This is not an accusation, this is merely your pastor identifying a challenge that I face, too, every day. It is hard to do something about a problem that we don't name. So, now that we've done that, we can move on to thinking through how to incorporate Sabbath into our daily lives. I believe that the slower pace of summer is the perfect time to do this. We have several months to try new things, a few months for them to "stick." The book that I referenced yesterday, Sabbath: Finding Rest, Renewal, and Delight in Our Busy Lives, by Wayne Muller is chock full of reflection on Sabbath and Sabbath practices inspired by a variety of religious traditions. There truly is something for everyone.

The three that I suggested yesterday are just a beginning. Here is a recap on what those were.

1) Take an Appliance Sabbath. "Choose at least one heavily used appliance or device – the telephone, television, computer, washer, dryer – and let them rest for a Sabbath period, which can be a morning, an afternoon, an entire day." It is not as much about the length of time but rather about being intentional about the Sabbath rest and then reflecting on how you felt about it afterwards. I also mentioned that a couple I know who are grandparents declare their home to be a phone free zone – a Sabbath from handheld devices, every time their grandchildren are with them. They collect the phones in a basket and return them when the children leave. In between they have plenty of face-to-face time in conversation, play, and rest. 2) Another practice involves taking time at the beginning of the day to embrace the new beginning. Rather than racing through your breakfast, or grabbing a bite on the run, take them time to prepare, sit, and take notice. This is a practice that can infuse other moments of your day. Tiny Sabbath moments! 3) Bless your children/grandchildren/all children. Place your hands upon their heads, your fingers in their hair, and bless them out loud! Rest with them, play with them. Take a family walk. Listen to their stories. Hear their worries. Absorb their laughter until it mingles with your own. Help them remember to whom they belong and in that Sabbath moment, you will remember who you belong to as well. We belong in and to God, our Creator, whose creation was not complete without Sabbath.

And so, beloved of Centre Church, I hope that you will find Sabbath moments this summer and immerse yourself in them. And I hope you will share with me what you find!

In hope,

Rev. Nancy

Why Celebrate Christmas in July?

Some questions to ponder:

- Do I reflect on the birth of Christ only in December?
- How might my life change if I celebrated the birth of Christ year round?

Read Luke 1. Consider how you can celebrate Christmas throughout the year.

Faith Formation Classes and Christian Education Certification is available through the UCC! (<https://www.macucc.org/certification>)

The Christian Educators Certification Program is for church leaders and local church educators who wish to develop skills for creating and/or leading a progressive, comprehensive, and exceptional faith formation ministry in their local churches. Church educators are persons who may serve in the role of church school superintendent, director/coordinator of Christian education, pastor, other authorized minister, and/or church school teacher, for instance. The Certification Certificate, presented at the completion of the program (see Frequently Asked Questions below for details) will indicate that the educator has achieved a certain level of proficiency as a church educator that is recognized by the Massachusetts Conference UCC. Lisa Gerbick is enrolled in the program and Laraine Wilson has completed it -- see them with questions!

Faith Formation Classes for All: These are the classes that comprise the Christian Educator Certification Program and are offered to anyone from a local congregation who is interested in furthering his/her knowledge and understanding of the Christian faith and the work of the Church. If the student is not interested in Christian Educator Certification, he/she need only to choose one of the classes or as many as desired. No certificate is granted; however, the student may request official documentation of his/her participation in a class or classes.

Dear Congregation,

Thank you for your generosity in supporting Heifer International once again during this recent fiscal year. Together, we donated $3269.50 to Heifer by filling the goat tube (four times!), baking and buying muffins during Lent, encouraging our children to donate change when thinking about our wealth compared to those who go without in other parts of the world, and gifting live animals in honor of our loved ones at Christmas. We recently sent our collected donation to Heifer International and it broke down like this:

$2,293.00	Heifer Living Gift Market during Advent
$300.50	Muffins during Lent
$196.00	Coin Boxes for families during our Stewardship Campaign
$480.00	4 x filling the goat tube!
$3,269.50	total donation to Heifer International in FY2018

Thank you all for thinking of and supporting ways to help those who are struggling to feed their families in areas very far away from Lynnfield Massachusetts.

Sincerely, The Missions and Outreach Team of Centre Church
